

DRIVE NETS A BIG GAIN FOR ALLIES

CAPTURE OF COMBLES, THIEPVAL AND GUENECOURT MARK CLIMAX OF OFFENSIVE ALONG SOMME.

FIERCE ARTILLERY FIRE

British Pound German Lines With Weltering Cannons Before Infantry Lines Sweep Forward
—Berlin Admits Loss.

British Front in France, via London, Sept. 27.—The capture of Com-bles was one of the most picturesque incidents in the whole course of the great Somme offensive. It marked the opening of today's forward surge
of the British and French forces,
which reached its climax in the capture of Guenecourt and Thiepval.

Sitting in the midst of a heap of hills, the town was isolated yesterday by the seizing of the high ground
on either side by the French and British. In the early hours of the morning, the British took an orchard
in the northern outskirts and then after heavy preliminary shelling they charged the trenches on the edge of the village. The trenches were empty, when they reached them. At the same time the French were driving forward on the other side of the village, pursued victoriously forward into the heart of the village. In the main street the soldiers of two nations met
and joyously shook hands, calling out to each other "Parlez-vous," and
"How do you do?"

Having cleared Combles of any German troops, the British and French moved on side by side to a further attack. One of the most striking features of the fighting last night
and today was the surprisingly slight resistance of Morval and Comblès by the Germans, according to all reports made by the British officers.

British Take Guenecourt.
In their attack yesterday the British found the German defense made up of Guenecourt. There the Germans used their machine guns
with the tenacity and unyielding
courage which has been their strength in the past. The British resumed the attack today, and tonight all the village is in their possession.

In the meantime the British continue to pound the German line with unremitting and inexhaustible supply of shells, leaving the Germans in doubt as to what sector will be the next to be attacked by the British.
The British have ceased to gain any certain frontage, in a sudden increase of gunfire in that sector, to pound under which the Germans seem to have taken a mouse could escape alive.

Usually, this tornado is brief,
compared to the old fashion of artillery preparation, which lasts long enough to enable the British infantry
to rush from their line to the German trenches, while all the German machine guns and rifles are still firing.
The British have now the co-operation of infantry and artillery has improved
by the battle practice of the offensive.

A blackish heap of dirt and remains of a ridge.
On the top of that heap,
there still rises a few black sticks—
tree trunks, silvered and hewn by shell fire which had escaped being downed by aircraft.

Aviators Destroy Stores.
Berlin, Sept. 27.—The story of the destruction by German aviators on the night of July 20, of huge British aircraft stores at Arras, in northwest France, ten miles south of Calais,
is now published by the semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.
According to this newspaper, German aviators kept watch for months
as the ammunition store houses were built. The ultimate loss is reported at about $25,000,000.

Admit Allies Gain.
Berlin, Sept. 27.—After unusually bitter fighting on the Somme front,
in which the entente allies suffered heavy losses, they captured Thiepval and Guenecourt, and held them. The British and French forces, according to the German official report, were re-embarked on the Somme front.

Take Many Prisoners.
London, Sept. 27.—Four thousand prisoners were taken by the British in Monday's and Tuesday's fighting on the Somme front, according to a day-long report of General Haig, which was given out today.

Capture Fortified Wood.
Paris, Sept. 27.—A British French army of 100,000 men has succeeded in capturing a strongly fortified wood, according to an official statement issued by the war office today.

Creek Troops Join Revolt.
Paris, Sept. 27.—Greek troops in Cyprus to the number of 4000 have joined the revolutionaries, according to a radio message dispatch from Athens.
Only a few other officers,
and twenty-five men remained loyal
to the government.

LODI SUFFERS LOSS THROUGH CYCLONE

Lodi, Wis., Sept. 27.—Considerable damage was done by a cyclone which passed through here late yesterday.
Frank Benzmiller's farm, the hardest of all small buildings on the place being entirely demolished.
The house and barns were badly damaged.

The Charles Chislow farm the straw was lifted from its foundation
and carried 20 feet. Sam Heimson,
of this city, was struck by lightning,
and rendered unconscious. Physicians say he will recover.

FIRE DESTROYS QUEBEC
CHARITY HOME; NONE LOST

Quebec, Sept. 27.—The Beaumont home for children and elderly people was destroyed by fire early today. Upwards of 200 people were in the building, and it is reported that some of them were injured.

The loss was estimated at $50,000.
All the inmates were rescued, it was later reported.

RUMANIAN SOLDIERS BLOW UP TRAINLOAD OF ARMY OFFICERS

Berlin Gets Reports Telling of Rebellious Acts Which Are Disrupting Rumanian Forces.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, Sept. 26.—Wireless to Associated Press, Sept. 27.—Indirect information from Kronstadt, Transylvania indicates that disgruntled Rumanian soldiers set off a dynamite bomb under a trainload of 400 Rumanian officers, only seven of whom escaped unhurt.

Following the Rumanian military authorities instituted an investigation commission and ordered two non-commissioned officers and four soldiers to be shot, the only result, however, being the refusal of an entire regiment to obey orders.

Bulgarian Success.
Sofia, Sept. 27.—After ten days of heavy fighting between Serbian and Bulgarian troops on the western end of the Macedonian front, the Bulgars forced back their opponents, compelling them to retreat along the whole front, it was announced today.

SOLDIER HOLDS ROOF ON BACK; SAVES SEVEN

After Shell Knocked Props From Dugout His Strength an Aid to Wounded Tommies

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Sept. 26.—A further list of officers who have performed remarkable feats of valor in the field and won decorations, was published today.

Heating on his shoulders the entire weight of the roof of a dugout after it had been blown in by an enemy shell. Second Lieutenant Hendrie Schenck, of the Royal Field Artillery, thereby saved the lives of seven wounded men in cots on the floor about him. He was awarded the Military Cross.

Corporal Booth, of the Lincolnshire Regiment, has been blown up by shells three times, and yet lives to tell of his experience. He was blown a distance of fifty yards the last time, when a shell exploded by his side, killing all of the men near him. No metal struck him. In a previous attack he was blown a distance of about thirty-five feet to the top of a trench.

FORFEITS FORTUNE TO WED SECOND TIME

Ashland, Ky., Sept. 27.—Mrs. John C. Mayo, widow of the Kentucky millionaire who died two years ago in New York City, was married here recently at the home of her uncle, Postmaster Cyrus M. Preston, of Dr. State of Kentucky, to Dr. Peter of Portsmouth, Ohio. Dr. Peter is the son of an Episcopal minister and spent his boy-hood days in the Carolinas. The couple made the first time last winter in Florida.

In marrying a second time, Mrs.
Mayo forfeits, by a stipulation in the will of her former husband, a sum of $100,000, about half of the Mayo fortune. She still has,
however, the estate and mansion left
by her husband at Painsville, Ky., improved by her two children,
John and Margaret, will receive the forfeited millions. They will continue to live with their mother and her new husband.

Mrs. Mayo has been an interesting figure for several years, as she has been not only one of the wealthiest women of the central west, but has also been known for her unusual ability. She was active in helping her husband before his death.
Two years ago when John C. Mayo died, Mrs. Mayo was so well informed in his affairs that she was able to take measure to step into his shoes
and deal with matters that might otherwise have been mismanaged or delayed. She carried on his work as he would have carried it on had he lived.

WANT ONLY FEDERAL RAILROAD CONTROL

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 27.—Congressional legislation in regard to railroads which would make federal control superior to that of the states and give the federal government the power to regulate rates and to annexed today by the savings bank section of the American Bankers' Association in annual convention here.
The resolutions, which the railroad industry has been opposing, were because of the "costly conflicts" arising between various states and congressional ruling of supervision of the railroads.

Less than through mileage was billed last year than in any year in half a century with more lines in bankruptcy than at any time in the history of the country, the resolutions set forth.

LAST WEEK FINE HARVEST WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 27.—Widespread dry weather with mostly mild temperatures was decidedly favorable for harvesting and other field work generally throughout the country. The national weather and crop bulletin is issued today in its final weekly issue of the season.

Concomitant silo filling, threshing,
harvesting tobacco, potatoes and beet digging and cranberry picking made fine progress. Much fall plowing was accomplished. Gathering may be completed by the end of the season, but fodder making, late seed planting and late gardens need rain.

RELIGIOUS BUILDINGS EXEMPT FROM TAXES

Madison, Sept. 27.—All Y. M. C. A. buildings and other property owned and operated by religious, and charitable, benevolent, educational and other non-profit organizations, are exempt from taxes, according to an opinion of Attorney General Owen today
issued to the state tax commission. This opinion reverses that of the tax commission which in the past has taxed
such property.

STATE COMMITTEE URGES HARMONY IN REPUBLICAN RANKS

Organization of Republican State Central Committee is Perfected in Milwaukee on Tuesday.

Milwaukee, Sept. 27.—Conservative and progressive Republicans met in a session which spelled harmony and a concerted effort in behalf of national,
state and county tickets, when the newest out of the republican state central committee organized in the Republican house
Tuesday afternoon.

Members were outspoken in their reference to past party differences, to which apparently there must be hearty cooperation between state and national committees and substantial support from the latter of normal republican majorities are to be polled for the national ticket.

Men Are Optimistic.
A note of optimism pervaded the meeting, however, and Chairman
George A. West expressed gratification that the committee appeared in a mood for hard and effective campaigning, rather than in a spirit of over-confidence.

W. Fraser, Menominee
Press, was re-elected secretary and Fred W. Rogers, Milwaukee, was chosen as treasurer. A rising vote of thanks was extended to the retiring chairman, Alvin P. Kleczka.

Attorney General Walter C. Owen, nominated for re-election as a member of the La Follette state, urged harmony and the thorough work in the state campaign, predicting victory for the entire ticket if this were done.

State Treasurer Henry Johnson, nominee for re-election on the Philip C. La Follette ticket, said that the committee should be in a position to win the election if the members of the committee were in a position to win the election.

Campaign Plan Outlined.
After hearing James J. Elliott, representing the national committee, the state campaign plan was outlined to be conducted in conjunction, financially and otherwise, with the national committee, executive and finance committees of the national committee. They will meet immediately to arrange for headquarters and speaking and publicity bureaus.

The finance committee are:
Charles H. John, Milwaukee, chairman; Richard Gunz, Milwaukee; Sol Levin, Madison; Herman Wertheimer, Waterloo; George J. Losby, Eau Claire.
The executive committee comprises:
W. B. Heineman, Wausau, chairman;
Frank Whitman, Hingham; George B.
Haney, Kaukauna; George B. Harris,
Wausau; M. H. Barton, Rhineland;
E. H. Lyons, Fond du Lac, and C.
J. Sumner, Delavan.

Those attending the meeting were:
First district, C. J. Sumner, Delavan; Second, Herman Wertheimer, Waterloo; Joseph Huber, West Bend; Third, George J. Losby, Eau Claire;
Fourth, George S. Meredith, Richard Gunz, Milwaukee; Fifth, Fred W. Rogers,
Charles H. John, Milwaukee; Sixth,
D. C. Pinkerton, Oshkosh; Seventh,
W. B. Heineman, Wausau; Eighth,
E. Heineman, Wausau; Fred Fisher, Wausau; Ninth, J. L. Haney, Kaukauna;
Eleventh, M. H. Barton, Rhineland; Twelfth, H. Crownhart, personal campaign manager for Senator La Follette, in which he expressed regret that the senator could not be present. Chairman West's invitation to attend the meeting, as he was on a speaking tour in northern Wisconsin.

BRITISH STOP BAN ON U. S. TOBACCO

Washington, Sept. 27.—Great Britain has withdrawn regulations for importations of cigars and tobacco, which American growers had declined to accept, and authorized imports on the basis of those of 1913, 1914, and 1915.

Consul General Skinner cabled the state department today of the change.
The original regulations governing imports of tobacco between June, 1916, and May 30, 1917, were based on the amount that the importers had bought in 1915, a year in which imports were small.

The new order, according to the department of commerce officials, gives authority for practically normal imports of American tobacco into Great Britain. The tobacco affected comes largely from Florida, Connecticut, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania.

USE VOTING MACHINES WITH RESTRICTIONS

Madison, Sept. 27.—That voting machines cannot be used in the New elections unless such machines accommodate the presidential referendum and state ballot, is the opinion of Attorney General Owen today
issued to the state tax commission. This
opinion reverses that of the tax commission which in the past has taxed
such property.

WILL INFORM CARRANZA ON U. S. NEWS

ARRENDONDO LEAVES FOR MEXI-CO CITY TO CONFER ON MEXI-CAN-AMERICAN DIFFICUL-TIES.

CALL OUT NEW TROOPS

Additional National Guardsmen Now
in Mobilization Camps of Thirteen States Will See Border Service.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Sept. 27.—Elesio Arrendondo, the Mexican ambassador designate, now on his way to Mexico
City, is expected to arrive today.
He is expected to arrive today.
He is expected to arrive today.

Recently, Arrendondo became less attentive to her. Mrs. Arrendondo told the police that Mrs. Belzer had assumed the name of Ledur, and used the first two initials of Grave's name.
The girl in the hospital is described by the police as younger and prettier than Mrs. Belzer, who also was a prima donna.

Mrs. Arrendondo this afternoon saw the wounded girl in the hospital, and later told the police that the girl was not married, and that she did not know Mrs. Belzer, before she shared the hotel room and began shooting.

PLAN UNION CENTER CHURCH AT MADISON

Rev. Allison, Presbyterian University
Pastor, to Have Charge of University Religious Center.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—Rev. M. G.
Allison, Presbyterian university pastor, has been engaged as agent
and financial secretary of the Union Religious Center board, which is incorporated last spring, to build a religious center at the University of Wisconsin.

The religious center corporation is made up of representatives officially nominated by the various religious denominations and religious associations cooperating. All religious bodies having students at the university are eligible to membership. The corporation has already elected its officers.
The board of directors has already elected its officers. The board of directors has already elected its officers.

LARGER ATTENDANCE AT NORMAL SCHOOLS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—Comparing the attendance for the first week
of this year with the normal schools of the first week of one year ago
the normal schools of the state have increased their attendance eleven per cent. This announcement was made by Secretary William Kittle of the board of normal regents today. The attendance records at the schools for the first week of this year are as follows:

	First week	First week
Eau Claire	1915	1916
La Crosse	162	162
Milwaukee	476	490
Oshkosh	334	349
Platteville	282	305
River Falls	550	545
Stevens Point	438	508
Superior	438	508
Whitefish	434	463

The total attendance at all of the normal schools for the first week of 1915 was 4,119, as compared with 3,697 for the first week of 1914. This is an increase in attendance of 473.
The new Eau Claire
school is opened for the first time this fall and the attendance there is 162.

GELATT IN CHICAGO FOR WIFE'S FUNERAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Sept. 27.—The mystery
concerning the whereabouts of Arthur
A. Gelatt, son of a La Crosse, Wis., publisher, whose wife killed their child and herself several days ago,
was cleared up today when Gelatt appeared in Chicago after being released from Philadelphia, where he was preparing to enter the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Ludwig Heekten, professor of Pathology of the University of Chicago, and father-in-law of Gelatt, brought the bodies of his daughter and granddaughter to Chicago today from Madison, Wis., where the tragedy occurred.
He said he would attend the funeral of his wife tomorrow. He referred all interviews to the last latest, he wrote to his estranged wife,
upon receipt of which she killed herself and the child.

CLEAR UP MYSTERY IN DOUBLE MURDER AT PHILADELPHIA

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Philadelphia, Sept. 27.—The woman who shot and killed J. C. Graveur of New York, seriously wounded his female companions, and then committed suicide in a prominent hotel here, early today has been identified as Mrs. Mary Belzer of New York, by a sister of the dead man. His sister, Mrs. Frances Apman, came here today with Henry V. Fancie of Grav-
eur, a business partner of Graveur,
and made the identification at the
morgue.

Mrs. Apman told the police Mrs.
Belzer had not been living with her husband recently. Graveur, she also told the police, was a widower and
had been very friendly with Mrs. Bel-
zer. From cards in Mrs. Belzer's
handbag, the police at first believed
she was Mrs. Belzer, but later they found the identification at the morgue.

The wounded woman in the hospital, thought at first to be Graveur's
wife, had not made any statement.
Mrs. Apman said that the girl in the hospital had said that she was the
sister of the dead man. His sister, Mrs. Frances Apman, came here to-
day with Henry V. Fancie of Grav-
eur, a business partner of Graveur,
and made the identification at the
morgue.

Mrs. Apman told the police Mrs.
Belzer had not been living with her
husband recently. Graveur, she also
told the police, was a widower and
had been very friendly with Mrs. Bel-
zer. From cards in Mrs. Belzer's
handbag, the police at first believed
she was Mrs. Belzer, but later they
found the identification at the morgue.

The wounded woman in the hospital, thought at first to be Graveur's
wife, had not made any statement.
Mrs. Apman said that the girl in the
hospital had said that she was the
sister of the dead man. His sister, Mrs. Frances Apman, came here to-
day with Henry V. Fancie of Grav-
eur, a business partner of Graveur,
and made the identification at the
morgue.

WEALTHY IOWA MAN IS LATEST VICTIM OF BLACKMAIL PLOT

Chicago Police Are Investigating Extortion of $10,000 Secured By
"Syndicate" Usual Method.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Sept. 27.—Investigation of a new blackmail plot involving a rich Iowa man, who at the same time sent out of $10,000, was started by federal officials today.
The method of extortion was described by department of justice
officials as being the same as was employed in the so-called $1,000,000
blackmail syndicate. Two young women and a Chicago attorney are involved. Neither the names nor the names of the Iowa victim will be made public until arrests are made.

The Iowa merchant, who is a widower, is said to have been surprised in a compromising situation, and his arrest followed by a man posing as a government agent. Pleasings of his companion lead to the suggestion.
Federal officials said that the affair might
be adjusted by payment of money.
The Iowa man paid.
Warrants for the arrest of five persons named by Edward R. Egan, a Chicago business man, as participants
in alleged blackmail by which he was
swindled out of $15,000, are to be sought by States Attorney Hoyne.

A small, middle-aged man, with social pretensions were written, is to be turned over to Hoyne for investigation. The book, according to federal officials, said that the affair might
be adjusted by payment of money.
The Iowa man paid.
Warrants for the arrest of five persons named by Edward R. Egan, a Chicago business man, as participants
in alleged blackmail by which he was
swindled out of $15,000, are to be
sought by States Attorney Hoyne.

GREAT LAKES BOATS TO BE MADE SAFER

Washington, Sept. 27.—Half a hundred steamboat inspectors, ship owners, builders and naval architects conferred today at the department of commerce officials, about proposed regulations
as to load lines and bulk heads for insuring safety to steamships on Great Lakes and St. Lawrence rivers.
The regulations were vital necessary, but there were many technical phases of the problem that would be hard to solve.

Secretary Redfield said there was a great temptation to overload on the Great Lakes, that the department had no power to prevent it, but was watching for overloading and to do everything possible to induce navigation interests to stop overloading.
Mr. Redfield said that the department had already made a study of the problem before congress and the present.

LITTLE BELGIAN GIRL THINKS U. S. AID PAYS BACK FOR HELP IN '76

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Sept. 26.—While H. C.
Hoover, chairman of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium was making his recent tour of inspection in Belgium, he met a little girl, who was born in a French town, who received a letter from a twelve year old school girl
of Lille, which advanced the naive view that the Americans were carrying on the assistance of the French in the American war of independence.
A translation of the letter follows:
"Sir,
I will be one year the day after tomorrow since you first procured
good bread for us. The May 5th, 1915, when mother came here, we found it so good, for the bread we had been eating for such long months was stinky, black and hard. The mothers of families were very happy with such good bread. And then the rice became our daily food. It is no doubt in gratitude to the French who went to America to help us in 1776, that you are now alleviating our sufferings."

CARMEN MAY STRIKE FOR HIGHER WAGES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Paul, Sept. 27.—Leaders of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen in the northwest met here today to discuss a plan to demand higher wages
from the Great Northern, the Northwest Pacific, the Canadian Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul roads, and recognition of the union by the Great Northern and the Chicago roads. The estimated cost is $250,000, with an endowment for upkeep of a like amount. The building fund has been raised to $100,000. A general plan of the structure.

ARRESTED SUSPECT PROBABLY INNOCENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Bimidi, Minn., Sept. 27.—A man arrested yesterday at Black Duck as a suspect in the murder of Miss Olga Dahl, Itasca county school teacher, today arrived at Bimidi in custody of Deputy Sheriff Frank Carson, of Itasca county.
He said he was Edward Sunberg and declared he knew nothing of the crime for which he was arrested.

Sunberg said he was a farmer and lived near Maiden Rock, Pierce county. It is now believed he is innocent of any connection with the murder of Miss Dahl, but as he probably will be taken to Grand Rapids, pending further investigation. No word has yet been received from Sunberg's friends at Maiden Rock, but Deputy Sheriff Carson says the man's story seemed credible.

UNIONS FAIL TO RESPOND FOR STRIKE

WORKERS WHO JOIN IN SYMPA-THY WITH NEW YORK TRAC-TION MEN FAR SHORT OF $600,000 EXPECTED.

MAY QUIT TOMORROW

Leaders Believe Larger Number of Union Employees Will Be Out in a Few Days—Small Evidence of General Strike.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 27.—Union workers to the number of 125,000 went out on a strike today in sympathy with the striking traction employees, according to figures given out at a meeting of representatives of the labor union.
Far less than $600,000 union employees responded to the call, according to reports received at police headquarters. The officials said, however, that it was little evidence that a strike was in progress. Private canvassers reported at least twenty-two unions failed to respond to the strike call. The only union that responded at police headquarters was 250 members of the union refused to report for work.

Among the unions which failed to respond were the brewery workers numbering 6,000, but their leaders
declared they would strike tomorrow.
Fall Short of Prediction.
This was the day set by union leaders for a general suspension of work in all trades in New York City, and Westchester county, to aid the striking car employees. At one time it was predicted that upwards of 600,000 trade unionists would stop work but today the leaders estimated that about 200,000 men and women
would respond to their call.

WILL TAKE APPEAL ON SUNDAY CLOSING

Oshkosh Butcher, Found Guilty of Violating State Law, Plans to Test Its Legality.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Oshkosh, Sept. 27.—After a number of housewives had testified in municipal court that it was impossible to purchase meat on Sunday
as they did not have ice for keeping a supply from Saturday, a jury returned a verdict that John Bloch
was guilty of violating the state law
by keeping his market open for business Sunday, September 3. Sentence was given by the judge, but an appeal probably will be taken to the supreme court.

Prosecution of the case was carried on by an officer of the butcher workmen's union of this city. The defendant claimed his business was an exception from the Sunday closing law, being a work of necessity. Several of his customers said they had to buy meat Sunday, and without prime cost had not used upon the question, while the district attorney
made a point of an opinion rendered by the attorney general that to open great markets on Sunday was a violation of the state law.

LA FOLLETTE TALKS IN NORTHERN TOWNS

Senator Will Spend Remainder of Week Campaigning in Up-State Counties.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—According to the schedule announced by Charles H. Crownhart today, Senator La Follette will spend the week in northern Wisconsin. His itinerary today includes a speech at John A. Vesel, Oshkosh, the county fair at Crandon on Thursday noon and at Rhineland Thursday night; Friday night at Adams and Saturday in Barron county.

MARTINE WINS OUT IN JERSEY PRIMARY</

Orfordville News

Orfordville, Sept. 27.—Carl Clementson of Bowman, N. D., is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Clementson.

The old frame school house building is being moved on to the new foundation that has been prepared for it and it will be remodeled into a modern dwelling. It will be occupied by Mrs. N. K. Henshaw.

Mrs. K. Henshaw of Cherokee, Iowa, is in the village attending to business matters pertaining to her farm.

There was no stock freight east bound on Monday evening, owing to the fact that the double head engine that was drawing the evening passenger off the track at the crossing, broke down and was passing through the village at about ten o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Adrian Cope, who resides at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ham, who is very near being the victim of a runaway on Monday afternoon, while driving a pair of broncos, the tongue of the wagon slipped through the neck, and he was thrown from the wagon and ran. Mr. Cope hung on with desperation, until the wagon collapsed with a post when he was thrown with great violence to the ground, striking on his head and shoulders. At first it was feared he had sustained fatal injuries but later he seemed to improve slightly, though on the following day he was still in the hospital. It is believed that he could drink the least amount of liquid refreshment.

Milton Junction News

Milton Junction, Sept. 27.—The Royal Neighbors met at the lodge room last evening and enjoyed a social time after the business meeting.

Mrs. John Arnold has gone to Mt. Pleasant for a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Glenn of Janesville were guests of Roy Carey and Elam Coon and their families Monday.

Mrs. S. C. Chambers spent Tuesday in Janesville. She was accompanied home by Miss Nellie Fathens, who will spend a few days here.

Dr. and Mrs. Rogers of Los Angeles, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Coon of Milton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Coon.

Miss Kate Crall spent last evening with Janesville friends.

Mr. J. Chilton of Geneva, Ill., transacted business here Tuesday.

Alex. Campbell of Albion, pension claim agent, was a guest of O. C. Garthwaite yesterday.

Miss Josephine Brown is in Janesville for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Coon motored to Rochelle, Cambridge and Fort Atkinson yesterday.

Elmer Carey and daughter Gladys spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Stoeck at Johnston. Miss Gladys remained for a few days' visit.

Mr. Arthur Oehrk was a Janesville visitor Tuesday.

Fred Burdick of Chicago was a guest of G. W. Coon the first of the week.

Evanville News

Evanville, Sept. 27.—Several serious mishaps to autos within a few miles of Evanville have caused guards to have more business than they can take care of. The tourists have been passing in increasing numbers.

Lytle Porter was pledged to Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at the university last week. Gordon Adams is a member of this same society.

John Halpin of Beloit visited at the A. M. Van Wagon home Sunday.

Mr. E. Tomlin was a Janesville business visitor yesterday.

Mrs. H. H. Hile of Madison is spending a few days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wolf.

Clyde Gentsinger of Woodstock was a recent local visitor.

George Thurman of Beloit spent the week end with local relatives.

Mrs. Pierce is on the sick list.

Hugh Hyne motored to Janesville on business yesterday.

UTTERS CORNERS

Utters' Corners, Sept. 26.—Rev. Samuel Lusk of Whitewater occupied the pulpit at the Utters' Corners church last Sunday.

John Shields has so far recovered from his illness as to be able to ride out.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Birkholtz of Hixson, Nebraska, are visiting at George H. Roe's.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. A. H. Shields Thursday afternoon of this week.

Kerrill Payton was on the sick list the past week.

Mr. Joice and family have moved into W. Woodke's tenant house, east of the church.

Mrs. Hulsey Roe of Riceville, Iowa, is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

G. H. Roe and family and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Berg were Sunday guests at the Herman Birkholtz home, at Fort Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lavanway visited his sister, Mrs. Ida Boyle, in Whitewater, Sunday.

Miss Olive Pitt of Johnston spent a few days last week with her grandparents here.

Ernest and Walter Schultz spent Sunday in Whitewater.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Birkholtz of Fort Atkinson visited at George H. Roe's Monday.

Mrs. E. Shields and son of East Troy and Mr. and Mrs. William McCarty of Northeast Lima visited at John Shields' Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimm who, with Mr. and Mrs. Graft, have been working the farm north of Springbrook creamery, have moved to Whitewater.

A number from here were in attendance at the Elkhorn fair last week.

PORTER

Porter, Sept. 26.—Neil McGinley and daughter, Mary, motored to Beloit on Sunday and visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Henshaw.

Floyd Mable is assisting Ed Ford with his tobacco harvest.

McCarthy brothers filled their silo on Tuesday.

Mrs. Watson is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Watson.

Miss Maude Fessenden is spending a few weeks at the home of Mrs. Strawn.

Miss Nettie Armit spent the week-end at Fort Atkinson.

Robert and Catherine Earle, who have spent their vacation at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Earle, have returned to their school work at Janesville.

Paul Ludden, who has spent two weeks at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McCarthy, returned home on Sunday.

Miss Nora McCarthy is attending school at Whitewater.

Floyd Viney of Edgerton, spent last week at the home of Dennis Casey.

Mr. Holton of Stoughton, was a business caller in this vicinity the first of the week.

Miss Maria Knight spent Tuesday at Jefferson.

Floyd Mable spent Sunday at Edgerton.

John, Oscar and Elizabeth Mable spent Sunday afternoon at C. W. McCarthy's.

Edgerton News

ROCK COUNTY BREEDERS TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

Edgerton, Sept. 27.—The Rock County Breeders' Association will hold their annual picnic and fall meeting at the home of D. L. Babcock north of this city tomorrow.

The program will consist of music, talks from men from the agricultural department at Madison, and prominent cattle breeders, and a boys' judging contest for which cash prizes will be given.

The program will start at 10:30 and all interested in dairying are invited to attend. There will be much refreshment from your attending no matter what breed of cattle you keep, for a large part of the program will be devoted to subjects of general character. A picnic dinner will be served at 1:30. Bring your baskets well filled.

The ladies of the Norwegian Lutheran church will be entertained by Mrs. M. Murkye and Mrs. M. Matheson in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon.

Quite a number of the members of the Eastern Star are planning to attend the banquet this evening given by the Janesville order at the city. Preparations are being made by the Janesville lodge for about three hundred guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellogg pleased and entertained thirty of their friends last evening at a 6:30 dinner. The evening was spent playing auction bridge. Mrs. J. T. Thompson was awarded the high score and Mrs. E. Conway received the consolation prize.

The high cost of potatoes has suddenly taken a drop. Potatoes are selling in Edgerton from the cars at $1.40 a bushel.

Mrs. I. O. Briction of Deerfield, departed for her home last evening after spending the week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. A. Anderson.

The Young Ladies' society of the German Lutheran church were entertained at the home of Miss Clara Boesel last evening. Refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. E. McDonough and Mrs. George Stricker called at the Mercy hospital yesterday on Mrs. E. M. Hubbell.

Mrs. William Hartzel and Mr. and Mrs. G. Bartz are in attendance at the fair at Beaver Dam during the week.

Frank Hartzel is spending a few days at the home of relatives at Horton.

Mrs. C. F. Mabbett and daughter, Miss Jessie, spent the day yesterday as Capitol City callers.

Mrs. E. S. Lord, Mrs. T. A. Clarke and Mrs. C. S. Farman called on Stoughton friends Tuesday.

Will Atwell departed for Montana yesterday morning.

A new cement walk is being laid in front of the new building on Fulton and Henry streets and within a few days will be ready for use. Contractors Hiltz stated this morning that the fence which has been in the street and around the new building will be removed the last of this week or the first of next.

The telephone company are preparing to move some of their poles that will be in the way of the paving on Swift street.

A movement is on foot to lay a concrete pavement in the alley in the rear of the stores on Fulton street. This is a much needed improvement as the alley is very muddy, especially at wet times.

EAST MILTON

East Milton, Sept. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fritzke attended the funeral of an uncle, Mr. Otto, at Edgerton on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alban Saunders spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Geo. Hayden and Miss Harriet.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Dickhoff and son, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schultz and family at White-water.

Mrs. Elex Cashore and son, spent Thursday at Milton Jct., with Mrs. Gus Dickhoff.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Pull and Otto Fritzke and wife spent Sunday at Janesville with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kerl and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Malone and Mrs. Harry Harte and son, of Beloit, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dickhoff of Milton Jct., and James McGill spent Sunday at the home of Elex Cashore.

HARDWARE

Hardware, Sept. 26.—Nelson Murkye of Stoughton, was a week-end visitor at the home of his uncle, Peter Murkye.

Hubert Learn and family spent Sunday at Geo. Van Valin's.

Mike and Alice Doran spent Sunday in South Fulton with Mrs. Ellen Healy and family.

Will Bitters and family of Stoughton, were callers at Chas. Learn's Sunday.

Gertude Murkye of Madison was an over Sunday visitor at her home here.

Carpenters are at work repairing John Crouse's house which was struck by lightning during the storm last Wednesday night.

JUDA

Juda, Sept. 28.—Miss Catherine Felt left Monday for McConnel, to spend several days with friends.

Miss Margaret Bronson was accompanied home Wednesday by her aunt, Mrs. Hattie Bagley.

Miss Josie Philip returned home from her trip to St. Louis.

Mrs. William Pengra was taken to the Janesville hospital Tuesday evening.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wehelt, Friday morning, a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brunkow and son, Clarence, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newman and Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Corson motored to Orangeville Wednesday to attend Pennsylvania Dutch Day.

A Safe Food For Baby

Thompson's Food (Peptonized) is peculiarly adapted to infant feeding as it is most nearly like mother's milk. It contains all the elements so necessary to the proper growth of the infant and is the only brand of food containing in combination the food values of pure sweet milk, select barley malt and the elements of beef juice.

If you want your baby to become strong, healthy, full of life and vigor, feed it Thompson's Food (Peptonized). Ready for use by simply adding water.

We suggest that you try a 50c package with our guarantee of satisfaction.

J. P. Baker, Druggist, Janesville, Wis.

BROOKLYN

Brooklyn, Wis., Sept. 26.—The Opechee Band of Campfire Girls held their annual election last Friday evening and elected the following officers: President, Alice Main; vice president, Elma Lindhartsen; secretary, Dorothy White; treasurer, Lillie Knudsen. A son was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterson.

Miss Alice Speecher and Miss Lew's of Madison were guests Sunday at the T. D. Speecher home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Winter and son Myrlin were Madison visitors Sunday.

Miss Annie Green of Chicago has been a guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. William Crahen.

Raymond Piller spent Sunday with friends at Janesville.

Mrs. E. W. White and daughter Doris were in Madison Thursday, where the latter underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils.

Glenn Richards and Edward Karmgard were Janesville visitors Sunday evening.

Lytle O'Brien, Lowell Mason and the Misses Lila Sorenson and Wilma O'Brien were Madison visitors Sunday.

Mrs. E. M. Wilder of Waukesha came Friday to spend a week with friends and relatives here.

Mrs. A. P. Selleck visited her daughter at Evansville, Saturday.

Mrs. J. Millsap went last week to Devil's Lake, North Dakota, to visit her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Piller.

Mrs. Virgil Hopkins, Mrs. A. G. Piller and Mrs. Blanche Wackman have been attending the state W. C. T. U. convention, which was held the last of the week in Madison. A number of the ladies from the local union have been in attendance at various sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ellis of Evansville were callers at the J. C. Ellis home Sunday.

The Misses Edna Staffaucher and Mabel Milan spent Sunday at their parental home, at Monroe.

Miss Anna Smith returned Sunday evening from a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tappen, at South Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Waite and sons, Perry, Maurice and Paul, and Mrs. E.

M. Wilder autoed to Madison Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Paul Brown returned Thursday from a visit with her brother, Dr. A. B. Smith, and family at Woodstock, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Karmgard and family visited friends near Albany Sunday.

COOKSVILLE

Cooksville, Sept. 26.—Farmers will realize more out of their tobacco than they expected. Buyers have been thronging here rebuying that portion injured by frost at prices ranging from eight to nine cents straight.

A heavy shower of rain fell last evening, which will be a great benefit to those filing silos, as the fodder was getting very dry.

Joseph Porter is in Montana purchasing sheep.

Mrs. Bolander is spending a few days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Soule, residing in Rutland, helping to care for her little granddaughter, who is seriously ill.

Cinco Cigars

Now Five Cents Straight

Owing to the increased cost of production, the manufacturers of CINCO CIGARS, OTTO EISENLOHR & BROS., INCORPORATED, have advanced their selling price to the dealers, and, in future, this cigar will be sold to the consumer absolutely at five cents straight, instead of six for a quarter, as heretofore.

The CINCO Cigar has attained a national reputation, and, through the maintenance of a high standard of quality, has become the largest seller in the world. The manufacturer has deemed it advisable to advance the price rather than sacrifice its long-established high quality.

Mrs. Charles Nelson and daughter Susan spent Friday with Mrs. Carl Hansen.

Charles Lawrence of Louisiana is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCarthy are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter, born to them last Sunday.

Mrs. Niles of Windsor, Wis., spent the past week with her granddaughter, Mrs. Chester Miller, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Severson are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter.

Ed. Kerin spent Sunday in Beloit with friends.

EAST KOSHKONONG

East Koshkonong, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Hansen was a caller in Fort Atkinson Monday.

Miss Mabel Grono is staying with her sister in Fort Atkinson for two weeks, while Mr. and Mrs. Shodor are visiting.

Mrs. William Grono was a business caller in Fort Atkinson Monday.

Henry Lemke has blood-poison in his hand.

Alfred Hensch was a business caller in Fort Atkinson.

Willie Will is filling silos in this neighborhood.

John Powers is not working for B. J. Grogan any more; has struck for better work.

Mr. and Mrs. Boerman had company from Zenda Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. August Lemke and son Henry were visitors in Fort Atkinson Sunday.

Miss Florence Grono visited her cousin, Esther Rohlf, Sunday afternoon.

William Grono and Chas. Hilgert were business callers in Fort Atkinson Friday.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC!

After October 1st We Will Sell Ice By the Coupon Books Only, to the Residence Trade.

Our method of selling coupon books gives the ice consumer every advantage, for it makes the economical use of ice possible.

1,000 lbs. Coupon Book, $3.25. 25c Off For Cash.

500 lbs. Coupon Book, $1.75. 25c Off For Cash.

CITY ICE COMPANY

SERVICE OUR MOTTO

Phones: Rock County 275 red. Bell 342.

Office: People's Drug Co.

Fall and Winter Necessity Sale
THE ECONOMY STORE

37 South Main Street.

Reliable merchandise at old prices. Buy now before prices go higher. Raw materials for Clothing and Shoes are from 50% to 75% higher and all merchandise scarce and very high in the market. So come early Thursday, Friday and Saturday and get your share of these Winter Merchandise at Last Winter's Prices. (8 Days Only).

Every Men's and Boys' Suits, Overcoats, Mackinaw, Every Garment in High Grade Sweaters, Winter Underwear, Shirts, Hats, Caps, Coats, Underwear and Blankets and an entire line of Boys' and Men's Furnishings can be bought cheaper than what they are costing wholesale now. Every Men's Work and Dress Shoe and Boys' School Shoes, also a complete line of Ladies' and Misses' Fine Shoes must be moved out for cost and less than cost. Later in season merchandise and wearables are going sky high, these are from last year—yours at old prices, look them over.

MEN'S CLOTHING

Fine Diagonal Blue Serge, good sateen lining, self button facing, very serviceable. Always sold for $12, price $5.95

Fine fancy brown cassimeres, herring bone weave, well made and trimmed. Worth $15.00, price $7.45

Special number, assorted staple Cassimeres, worsteds, thibets, etc., choice variety of sample suitings, mainly drummer's samples. Worth $20 to $30, price $9.75

Fancy worsteds in blue and brown and other fancy shades, trimmed with serge lining, long roll lapel, 3 button sack, pants cut full and roomy, good satin waist band, belt loops, etc., great value. Worth $18.00, price $8.75

Fancy worsteds, neat double silk stripe, splendid appearing number, very nobby—Sold at $18.00, price $9.25

Pencil striped French back worsted—neat shades of blue and brown, single stitched sateen, trousers made to perfection in every respect. Valued at $18, at $8.75

See the Men's Overcoats and Mackinaws Save HALF by buying NOW.

RAINCOATS AND SLIPONS REDUCED

$6.00 Slip-on, move 'em, price $2.98

$4.00 Slip-on, move 'em, price $1.98

MEN'S PANTS

1 lot of Men's Heavy Work Pants, $2 value, price $1.39

1 lot men's extra heavy work pants, $2.50 value, price $1.96

One lot men's genuine dickey Kersey pants, $2.50 value, price $1.85

1 lot men's blue serge pants, $4 value, price $2.98

One lot men's worsted pants in grey stripe, $3.50 value, price $1.98

You Can Buy Now—Regardless of Higher Cost Later.

Here is a small inkling of the stupendous cuttings that you can't afford to overlook at prices that will make your dollars buying power look as big as a cart wheel. Our prices as they are today.

Headquarters for Chippewa Wet Weather, all sold leather shoes. Every pair guaranteed at $2.47, $2.69

Girls' and Boys' School Shoes

Lace and button, boy proof, sizes 2 to 6; values to $2.50, ..... $1.69

Others ..... $1.39

Extra Special

250 Sweater Coats Men's, Boys' and Childre at 50 cents on the dollar these Sample Garments for the Family and you can buy them just half the Regular Price. Be early you need them now.

See the Chippewa Falls High Tops, all leather. $5 values, at .. $3.39, $3.85

625 pair men's work and dress shoes all styles, colors and shapes, each and every size all hung on racks so the picking out will be easier. Values $2.50 to $4.00. Move 'em out $1.95 and... $2.39
Children's and Misses' School Shoes, real style and wear, at 89c, $1.39 to... $1.69
Men's and Boys' Winter Overcoats, Mackinaws, Sweaters, Caps, Underwear and all wearables. 50% OFF
All Summer Caps and Hats to $1.00 value, at... 47c
MEN'S FURNISHINGS, OLD PRICES Heavy Rockford Hose ..... 7c
Dozen, ..... 82c
Boys' Sweaters, 33c, 69c, 89c..... 98c
Boys' Flannel Wool Shirts, at ..... 69c
Leaders, $3.00 shoes, small sizes, ..... 98c
Wool underwear, at $1.19, 98c and ..... 83c
All the finest Pumps and 2-straps, ladies' ..... $1.48
MEN'S FURNISHINGS.
Men's 75c Union Suits, price ..... 43c
Men's $1 and $1.25 Union Suits, price ..... 69c
One lot regular 25c Suspenders, price ..... 18c
One lot Men's Felt Hats, values to $2.50, at ..... 95c
MEN'S DRESS AND WORK SHOES
$5.00 Cushion Sole at ..... $3.43
$4.00 values ..... $2.98
$3.50 values ..... $2.69
$2.50 values ..... 1.98
$5.00 values ..... $3.43

YOU KNOW THE BARGAINS THIS ECONOMY STORE SAVED YOU LAST WINTER. COME AND PICK OUT WHAT YOU CAN USE AT LAST YEAR'S PRICE. SAVE WHAT YOU CAN FOR THE DAY COMETH WHEN YOU CANNOT SAVE.

LAUX ECONOMY STORE, 37 S. Main Street, Janesville, Wis.

Genuine Painless Dentistry

I am doing just that.
If you ask for it, and are willing to pay for it, I can actually do your dental work without hurting you.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS
Dentist.
(Over Rehberg's.)
All work fully guaranteed.

If You Had A Safe Deposit Box

In our modern vaults in which to put all your important papers, jewelry, or other valuables, you would always know just where they were and could put your hand on them at any time they were needed.

Rooms equipped with every convenience are at the service of box-renters.
$2.00 per year and upward.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Established 1855.
The Bank with the "Efficient Service."

W. A. DAKE, D. C.

CHIROPRACTOR
321 HAYES BLOCK
Office phone, R. C. 715 White, Bell, 193.
Residence phone R. C. 859 Black.
Lady Attendant. Calls made.
Spinal analysis free.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR RENT—Clean, warm 6-room house, water and gas. Inquire 302 S.
Jackson St. 11-9-27-3.
WANTED—Boy to work in store before and after school and Saturdays.
Must be 16. F. J. Hinterschied. 5-9-26-2.

FOR SALE—House on So. Third St.
burning heating stove, $8.00. Taken at once. 301 N. Bluff. 14-9-27-1.
FOR RENT—House on So. Third St.
Carpenter & Carpenter. 11-9-27-3.

FOR RENT—Store building, Desirable location, on West Milwaukee St.
Near bridge. Ready for occupancy in October. Address "Store" Gazette.
47-9-27-3.

CHIROPRACTOR E. H. Dambow, D. C.

The only Palmer school Graduate in Janesville.
If you are sick, here is the place to get well. Examination FREE.
Calls made anywhere at any time.
Office, 405 Jackson Bldg.
Both phones 970.
Residence phone, R. C. 827 Red.
I have the only Graphophone
Ray machine in Southern Wisconsin.

F. W. MILLER

CHIROPRACTOR
409-410 Jackson Block.
R. C. Phone 179 Black.
Hours 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.
Lady Attendant.
Your Spine Examined Free.

and the Worst Is Yet to Come

ROCK

Rock, Sept. 26.—The alto filling in this vicinity is about finished.
Mr. and Mrs. James Dillson received the sad news Sunday noon of the sudden death of their son-in-law in Johnstown.
Mrs. Wm. R. Kilmer is spending a week in Lake Geneva.
Miss Lucy Kellogg is attending
at Milton college this year.
A few from here attended the fair
at Waukegan Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jensen were called to Chicago Thursday by the death of his sister.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Noyes and Miss Crystal Noyes motored from Chicago and spent the week end with their mother.

Meet Friday: Circle No. 8 of the Cargill M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. C. W. Brooks, 527 Terrace street, Friday afternoon at 2:30. There will be election of officers. All members please be present.

NO MORE PARKING CARS ON MAIN ST. CORNER; ORDINANCE

Will be Given Final Reading at Next Meeting of Council.—Traffic Congestion Cause of Move.

Janesville commissioners at their meeting yesterday drafted a new and important ordinance to eliminate at least a portion of the bad traffic congestion and other bad conditions constantly resulting from the parking of automobiles and the hitching of horses at the Main-Milwaukee streets corner. The ordinance provides a maximum penalty of twenty-five dollars for any parking of a horse or team or parking his automobile
within one hundred feet of either cross walk on South and North Main and East Milwaukee streets. West Milwaukee street will be changed to the alley-way parallel to River street,
is already a zone by city ordinance.
The action comes as the result of numerous accidents which have occurred due to congested conditions. The ordinance will be given its third and final reading at the next meeting of the council.
The ordinance was given its first and second readings and with unanimous consent was given its third and final reading with the suspension of rules.
This provided the method for reducment of the $185,000 in bonds taken over by the city with the purchase of the water company. Under the plan
the water company would be sold to the city of Janesville. The purchase price of the organization, $1,635.32
will be set aside on the first of April and the first of October each year. It will be converted into a sinking fund and the interest on the bonds will be retired in about thirty years.

A communication from the Blodgett Milling company notified the city that the discharge of surface water into the waterway at the foot of West Bluff street was gradually filling up this water route. The communication termed the turning of the surface water from the sewer into the waterway an inconvenience to the company's rights and also advised that by the construction of several blocks of sewer
the water could be discharged directly into the waterway at River street. The letter was received and ordered filed.

More Money for Schools.
Mayor Fathers has been ordered to borrow the sum of $8,000 and place it to the credit of the school fund, the same to be made up from the tax levied
this winter.

A communication from the board of public works covering the placing of a six inch water main on Carriage street between Garfield avenue and Logan street was acted on favorably by the city.

City Attorney W. H. Dougherty reported favorably on a settlement made with T. B. Covender, who was injured at the stone crusher while in the city.

Brick crosswalks were ordered in
on St. Lawrence and South Third street on the east side of Ringold;
on North on the west side of Cherry;
on Cedar on the west side of South Cherry and on Ogden on the south side of Eastern avenue. Cement crosswalks were ordered on the crosswalks of the alley adjoining Joyce's on the east, being on the north side of Eastern avenue and on the east side of Ringold street across South Third street.

Cement Walks Ordered.
A standard cement walk was ordered in on the north side of Eastern avenue between the foot of St. Lawrence and the foot of the river, between Hartes' land, south by the highway and west by an alley.
Steps were taken for the purchase of a new automobile apparatus to be placed in the Spring Brook fire station. The city voted $300 for the purchase of a used automobile, said to be in good condition, for use in the city. It is to be used in fitting it up for use as a fire truck.

SET HEARING DATE IN TELEPHONE CASE

Application Made for Advance in Rates for Business 'Phones of Rock County Company.

The Wisconsin railroad commission has announced Oct. 17 as the date for the hearing on the application of the Rock County Telephone company for an increase in rates for its business telephone lines.
The hearing will be held at the office of the commission at Madison. The increase asked for is a charge of $3.00 a month for a one-party line and $4.00 for a two-party line. The present charge is $2.50 for a one-party line and $3.00 for a two-party line. No increase in the charge for residence rates is contemplated at present, according to the application to the commission.

OBITUARY.

Jasper N. Stillson.
Friends in this city have received word of the death of Jasper N. Still-son of Chicago, who passed away on September 23d. Mr. Stillson was a brother of the late J. H. Stillson, formerly of this city and had many friends in Janesville. He leaves a wife and five daughters. The funeral was held today at Chicago at his late residence, 430 Grand boulevard, and the interment took place at Mt.
Greenwood.

Russell V. Angell.
At five o'clock this morning at the hospital, Russell V. Angell, son of the late Russell and Susan Angell, passed away after an illness of many months.
He was born in Providence, R. I., November 8, 1859 and came west with his parents at the age of three years,
since which time he has been a resident of this city, and was well known to most of the residents. The funeral will be held Thursday at 2:30
p. m. from Oak Hill chapel.

Y. M. C. A. BOARD MEETS TO CONSIDER BOYS' SECRETARY

This evening at seven o'clock there will be a special meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., at which will be considered an application for the position of boys' secretary. The qualifications of the applicant of a sufficiently high standard to warrant acceptance will soon be well known. The board, however,
is most desirous of getting a man who is thoroughly capable, and that will be the case proceeding cautiously.
According to Secretary Beaumont the present applicant looks as though he could satisfactorily fill the position.

There will be a business meeting and social held at the Methodist church of the Wesley club. Every member is requested to be present at 7:30 p. m. tonight. Stanley R. Hor-wood, Pres.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Somerville
have moved to the Waverly flats.
Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan Huginia have issued the invitation to the marriage of their daughter, Gladys Irene,
to Allan Edgar Lee, on Monday evening, October 16, at eight o'clock at the Huginia place.
Jack Dicker has gone to Elkhorn,
where he will spend the next three months.

Mrs. J. M. Denniston is entertaining
a house party this week. The guests are, Mrs. Clara Scott and daughter of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Mrs. Alfred McGuire of Waupaca, Wis.

A. D. Not of Alvin, Texas, arrived in the city Sunday and will spend a few days calling on friends and relatives in city and country.

C. S. Bostwick, field manager of the Run-Over Lumber company, of Drummond, Wis. is in Janesville on business and is the guest of Harry Garbutt.

Alva Austin's Sunday school class will meet with Mrs. Kellogg's class afternoon. Conveyances will be at Kellogg's corner to meet the two and three o'clock interurban cars.

Mr. Frank Bryor of Pueblo, Colorado is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. F. J. Smith, East Milwaukee street.

Mrs. Burt Carr of Chicago is visiting Janesville. Mr. and Mrs. Carr are the new proprietors of the Hotel Warner, located at Thirty-third and Cottage Grove, Chicago.

Mrs. James R. Lamb of Milton avenue was a guest of Tuesday at the Shue of Beloit at one o'clock luncheon.

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs.
Darby Coon, Jr., who live near this city. The child is a few hours old.

The Misses Kittle and Ella Fanning went to Johnston on Tuesday
to attend the funeral of a cousin.

Mrs. M. M. McMillan of Beloit is a guest this week at the home of Louis Levy, on Third street.

A. H. Weeks of Fond du Lac, Wis., is a business visitor in this city today.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Levy and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Rice of Milwaukee, went to Chicago today, where they will spend several days.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Oland, Mrs. Jessie N. Luther of Madison and Mrs.
Elizabeth Little of Portage, Wis., are in the city. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Bond on South
Main street, and have come to attend
the Eastern Star meeting to be held at Masonic Temple this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rokenbrodt of Avalon, all motored to Delavan this week and spent the day with relatives.

Edw. E. Lee is spending a few days in this city and surrounding towns on business. He came by automobile from Chicago on Tuesday morning.

Edward Smith of Prospect avenue is confined to her home with illness.

J. L. Spellman of South Jackson street has been making an extensive tour of the eastern states for several weeks has returned home.

J. T. Welch of Clinton was a business visitor in this city today.

Miss Jennie E. Dr. Borard of Chicago, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Croft, for several days, has returned to Chicago.

Mrs. J. W. Wilson of Beloit is Janesville visitors today on business.

J. W. Hall of Johnston lost two horses last night. They were struck by a car on the highway.

McAdams of Beloit is the guest of Janesville friends today.

J. R. Wilkerson of Albany motored to this city and spent the day with friends this week.

Harry Nowlan of Cornelia street left today for Beaver Dam to attend
the Beaver Dam fair.

P. D. Hughes of Wales, Wis., is spending a few days in town greeting
friends and transacting business.

Elbridge Fifield, who came over from Delavan and spent a few days with relatives, has returned to Delavan.

Miss Louise Warren of Cornelia street has gone to Albany, where she will visit with relatives for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Higgins have taken apartments with Mrs. J. Stern of Harrison street.

Mr. and Mrs. William N. More of Prospect avenue left today for Beaver Dam. They are spending the evening at the hotel.

They have gone to visit the fair being held in that city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wright of North Main street, who have been spending the summer with relatives and friends
in Duluth, returned home this week.

Michael Breen of Harvard, Ill., was a business visitor in this city today.
He is the guest of Mrs. J. W. Wilson.

Christopher of Albany
has returned. She has been spending a week in Janesville, the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Saunders.

Mrs. F. P. Richardson of St. Lawrence avenue has returned from a Madison visit with relatives. She was accompanied by her daughter Sibyl,
who is a student at the University.

Miss Sibyl returned on Monday.

Mrs. Sarah Jackson of South Franklin street, who has been visiting with relatives in Port Atkinson for several days, has returned to her home.

Harold Dearborn of Chicago was in the city the first of the week. He is the guest of Mrs. J. W. Wilson.

His daughter, Sara Jean, who has been spending two weeks in the city, returned home with him.

Mrs. Walter Martin of South Main street moved into the Dillon flats,
on Rock street.

Miss Grace Jeffris of Chicago is spending a few days in this city at the home of Miss Esther Harris, on Sinclair street.

Mrs. Walter Martin of Rock street left today for Delavan, where she will visit with her brother for a few days.

Mrs. Frank B. Forth of Fond du Lac have been spending a few days in this city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lewis.

They returned home on Monday.

WOMEN GET DRINKS IN BOLGER PLACE; KEEPER ON CARPET

North Franklin Street Saloon Presented Called by Mayor and City Attorney on Tuesday.

Edward J. Bolger who conducts the saloon at 15 North Franklin street was on the carpet in Mayor Father's office yesterday for selling drinks to women. Bolger was confronted by Mr. Father, City Attorney W. H.
Dougherty and Chief of Police Peter Champion.

Chief Champion told the city attorney that the offense was committed on Tuesday night and that it was the one to make the discovery.
Champion said that he noticed the women standing in a dark hallway
as he passed the place investigated and found two men with them. All were drinking.

Bolger, at that time, said that one of the women was his wife and that the other was a friend of hers. The woman, the officer said, did not look like Mrs. Bolger.

The saloonkeeper yesterday, after a couple of stiff drinks, was compelled to keep his head down and agree to almost anything
he made all manner of promises and was permitted to go when he declared that he would do an special duty to see that no more women were served drinks from his place.

WED THIS MORNING AT ST. PATRICK'S

Popular Young Janesville Couple United in Holy Bonds by the Rev. Father Mahoney.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Mahaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
J. W. Mahaney, to George J.
Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J.
Barry, was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock this morning by the Rev. Father William Mahoney, assistant pastor at St. Patrick's Catholic church.

The ceremony was attended by a large number of the many friends of the young people, who had come to see them enter into the holy bonds of matrimony, and to wish them Godspeed and happiness through future life.

Harry T. Seigel, a cousin of the groom, was best man and Miss Ruth Gleason, a cousin of the bride, attended Miss Cunningham.

Following the wedding ceremony and mass the wedding breakfast and reception were held at Perschorens hall, 121 North Main street, where appropriately decorated for the occasion.
Sixty guests were in attendance. Music was furnished during the repast by Prof. George L. Hatch and Prof. Wilson and also later when dancing was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry eluded a large host of friends and caught a morning train for Chicago. The bride and groom they will reside at No. 113
Linn street.

Mr. Barry is an employee of the Milwaukee road. He is an extra conductor on the Milwaukee Point division and is in line for quick advancement.
Both are widely known among the younger people of the city and have the best of friends and a large circle of acquaintances for their success in life.

BRADY-FLAHERTY WEDDING IS HELD

Ceremony is Solemnized This Morning at St. Patrick's Church, Dean Relly Officiating.

A very pretty autumn wedding
was celebrated this morning at St.
Patrick's which united Mary Elizabeth Brady and Hugh Thomas Flaherty in marriage.

Rev. Eugene Relly officiated.
They were attended by Miss Catharine Agnes O'Leary of this city and John P. Flaherty of Chicago, brother of the groom.

The bride was attired in a gown of Swiss net trimmed in ivory satin
and jet over Georgette crepe and carried an arm bouquet of white roses.
The groom wore a tuxedo and a Swiss net over silver silk.

After a wedding trip they will be at home to their friends at 323 South Academy street.

WEDDED ON TUESDAY AT ST. PATRICK'S

Miss Minnie Zeigler and James Flood Take Marriage Vows.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Zeigler
and James Flood took place at St. Patrick's church Tuesday morning. The Rev. Father Mahoney read the marriage service. They were attended by the sister and brother of the groom, Edwin Flood,
and Miss Elizabeth Flood, James Flood is the son of Mrs. John Flood of Milton avenue. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mrs. Henry Rue, on South Bluff street. The decorations were in pink and green. They went to Milwaukee on their wedding trip. When they will make Janesville
their home.

APOLLO CLUB TO HOLD FIRST CONCERT OCT. 20.

It was inadvertently mentioned in the Gazette last night that the first concert of the Apollo Club would be given on October twelfth; the date should be October twentieth. There are to be five concerts given under the club's auspices during the season.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Wedded in Rockford: The marriage of Miss Emma Larson and Ross Wooster, both of this city, took place in Rockford on Monday, Sept. 25, at the parsonage of the Methodist church.
The Rev. Father Smith performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Wooster will make Janesville their home.

Missionary Society: Mrs. W. A.
Dake of 345 South Bluff street, was called to the Home Missionary society of the M. E. church this afternoon. Roll call was answered by each member, giving some W. H. news. Mrs. George Miller was the leader.

Entertainers at Picnic: Mrs. Archie Reid of St. Lawrence avenue entertained a few of the neighborhood club on Monday. The field was at Koshkonong on Monday. Those that enjoyed the day were: Mrs. F. C.
Burpee, Mrs. Bert Nowlan, Mrs. Anna
Baker, Mrs. Theresa W. H. and Miss Mary Barker. A picnic luncheon was served.

O. E. S.: Regular meeting of Janesville Chapter No. 69, O. E. S. will be held Wednesday evening, Sept. 27th, at Masonic Temple. Banquet at 6:30 o'clock.

PUT NON-PRODUCING LAND TO WORK SAYS FARMERS' BULLETIN

Every acre of nonproducing tillable
land should be put to work or sold,
says a new publication of the department, Farmers' Bulletin 745. Many farmers would make more money if their business were larger, but the size of a farm from a financial standpoint, is measured not by the number of acres embraced in it but by the number that are producing crops,
pasturing animals economically, or supporting a growth of marketable forest products. Nonproductive acres are later acres, and the money tied up in them is dead capital.

Cut Useless Land.

On every farm, however, there are certain acres necessarily devoted to nonproductive purposes. Fences, ditches, lanes, and building lots produce nothing themselves, but they are frequently essential to production on the rest of the farm. Nevertheless, they are costly in the aggregate a considerable percentage of the available land. It is a part of efficient farm management to see to it that this percentage is no higher than necessary.

In this connection, some interesting figures are given by the bulletin already mentioned. It is stated that about one-third of the land occupied by fences of different kinds. It takes, for instance, only 269 rods of unfenced
hedge and only 214 rods of zigzag rail fencing to enclose an acre of what might be productive land. For the same expenditure of land one can run 498 rods of woven wire and 473
rods of barbed wire. Other considerations, of course, may make it desirable to use the hedge or the woven fence, but the waste involved is a fact that should not be overlooked.

Similarly, farm lanes often may be eliminated by a simple rearrangement
of fields; headlands, or turning spaces,
at the edges of fields, avoided; and the farmstead itself, the group of buildings with their lots and yards, the garden, and the orchard—made compact. In the case of the farmstead, however, considerations of health and convenience may well justify a slight sacrifice of economy.

While a little planning often will result in the saving of much land devoted to these unproductive purposes, a more difficult problem is presented by waste land—that is, land
rendered unutilized by swamps, ravines, ditches, slopes, etc., woodland that does nothing and which is too poor to be profitable.

Some areas are, of course, hopeless,
and in that case they should be left out of the reckoning altogether. If, however, they are not too poor to be used, they can be made to pay for themselves by the production of timber.

On the other hand, woods which yield nothing but a little firewood for home consumption are permitted to occupy valuable land, in deciding which such lands should be cleared and tilled.
The cost of clearing, the increased value of the cleared land, the interest on the investment, the salable value of the time produced, the value of the timber, and the value of the land which will follow the disappearance of the timber must be taken into account. With unwooded areas, the advisability of clearing them for use may be determined by comparing the probable cost with the market price of good arable land in the neighborhood.

Obviously, the higher the price of land rises the more incentive there is for the farmer to avoid waste in the utilization of it. It is significant that the investigations of the agriculture department have shown that, instead of the price, tenants put a greater part of the land to productive use than owners. The tenant pays for each acre and he cannot afford to have any of them idle. On the other hand, the man who has no rent
to pay may be able to get his farm producing a part only of its full value, and he is, therefore, more likely to overlook the potential value of the part he wastes. By so doing he is,
of course, throwing away opportunity and losing money, but this is not always appreciated by those who have not grasped the important fact that the average farm is too small for the maximum efficiency of the land.
In cases of cases to increase the size of the farm business is to increase the profits from it. Those owners, however, who, realizing this, are considering the value of the land in addition to the value of the crops, are likely to see that they pay for no loafer acre.

To anyone who is buying or leasing land, the important question is not
"How much am I paying an acre for this tract?" but "How much am I paying for the acres that are going to work for me?"

Productive Land Values.

In the new bulletin it is calculated that a farm of 100 acres, selling at $100 an acre, will cost the purchaser actual $111.11 an acre if 90 per cent of it is productive. As a matter of fact, the percentage of improved land
in farms east of the Mississippi is only 53.5 per cent. The rest of the land is unimproved land, however,
it should be noted, is not always the same as productive land. A good timber lot, for example, is not improved
land, but it may be highly productive,
and farm buildings and fences stand on land that is improved but produces nothing. In the final analysis, it is the amount of productive land that determines the earning capacity of a farm, and that should therefore determine its price.

The Ladies' Auxiliary A. O. H. will meet in the Caledonia rooms this evening at 7:30. Misses Brazzel, Broderick, Cantwell, Croak and Medaides Cronin and Braggan, hostsess. Program at 8 o'clock on "The Poet and Priest of the South." Miss Della Shields, leader. Vocal solos by Margaret Gately, Mary Kelleher and Elizabeth Kelleher.

Chas. Fredericks as "Gus" in the big musical comedy "The Elopers" at New Myers Theatre, Tuesday evening, October 3.

MAJESTIC BUYS THE PRINCESS THEATRE

Janesville Loses One of Its Motion Picture Houses.

With the purchase yesterday of the Princess by the Majestic Theatre company, Janesville loses one of its show houses, which can not fail to improve the status of the motion picture business in this city.

The Princess will be remodeled, renovated and redecorated. The Majestic will move to that location which closes that theatre. The Majestic name will be continued as well as the justly famous Majestic policy which has won the respect of all theatre goers and drawn patrons where other small theatres have failed.

NEW MYERS THEATRE.
The La Salle Opera House, Chicago, musical comedy success. "The Elopers" with a company of fifty, thirty of whom are young, pretty, gaily equipped girls, will be the attraction of the New Myers Theatre on Tuesday night, October 3. This light and frothy musical runaway in two acts, presented by Frederick Herendeen, who is also the author of the numerous lyrics in the play, was without doubt the most popular of the La Salle musical comedies produced in the city. Miss Amy Leslie, in "The Elopers" in the Chicago Daily News said: "Nothing more charming has been written this year if it is full of witty lines and sparkling music—the girls and boys

SEE HIM
HEAR HIM
MEET HIM

Tonight at the
MAJESTIC

DARWIN KARR
The handsome leading man of the Essanay studios who

APPEARS IN PERSON tonight following his appearance on the screen with

NELL CRAIG
IN
Her Naked Soul

Mr. Karr will tell many humorous and interesting things about studio life and the making of photoplays. See and hear him tonight.

tone of note, Hazel Jameson, the beautiful soprano, late of the "Ziegfeld Follies," and formerly with several of the La Salle hits, Charlie Fredericks, an accomplished black-face roles who takes rank with the best of them, Carrie Weller, who was featured in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" for several seasons, Julian Rubell, a German comedian, who handles the English language scandalously and a number of others. A complete and beautiful scenic production is handled by the company and all the necessary lights and accessories. Taken altogether it is fair to state that no other evening of its kind will equal "The Elopers" this season.

WINNERS PLEASE IN "OFFICER 666"

The celebrated comedy, "Officer 666," which has been shown in the leading theatres of the country, was presented in a most capable manner at the New Myers Theatre last evening.

The action of the play deals with what happens to one Travers Gladwin, a rich young man who, on returning home from an extended trip, finds that someone has assumed his name and proposes to do away with some of his valuable paintings. The resulting situations are crammed with comedy and to the best advantage. Travers Gladwin, the leading role, demonstrated the ability of Mr. Glen Coulter. Miss Rosalind Macdonald, the charming leading lady, appeared very gracious and dainty as Helen Barton. The other members of the cast all deserve special mention.

During the acts some unusually good specialties were introduced.

Apollo

Matinee daily at 2:30
Evening 7:30 and 9:00

GREATER PHOTOPLAYS Tonight

The supreme emotional star

Pauline Frederick

In Clyde Fitch's greatest success

The Woman in The Case

A Paramount Picture.
ALL SEATS 10c.

Here Thursday
MATINEE AND NIGHT.

The Billion Dollar Cast

Chicago's Smart Set in the Gala Society Film

'COUSIN JIM'

By John T. McCutcheon and Kenneth Sawyer Goodman

SEE ALSO!!

The dare-devil leap from Suicide Bridge into the Lincoln Park Lagoon below, by two society policemen.

Chicago's "400" bedecked with jewels and exquisitely gowned at the Grand Assembly Ball at the Blackstone Crystal Ball Room.

An afternoon at the beautiful Indian Hill Club.

The Polo game at the exclusive Onwentsia Club with the elite of Chicago in all their finery as spectators.

Special Musical Accompaniment
Matinee:—All seats 15c.
Evening:—10c and 20c.
Reserve your seats early for evening show.

NEWS NOTES—MOVIELAND

—BY DAISY DEAN—

"The Quest of Life," a forthcoming production, marks the screen debut of Maurice and Florence Walton and the screen farewell of Robert Brower. The Waltons are new recruits from the stage. Mr. Brower is the dean of screenedom.

For sixty years Mr. Brower has devoted all his time to various forms of theatrical entertainment. He took part in one of the first motion picture plays ever turned out by Thomas A. Edison and has appeared in Edison productions continuously ever since.

MISS MINET MADUTZ
With the Winner Players at the New Myers Theatre all this week.

When the Lasky actors indulge in recreation working eighteen hours a day directing and writing, Cecil B. De Mille, director-general, who has directed many pictures, does not feel that he gets enough exercise, so he has engaged a fencing instructor and spends an hour a day with the broadsword and foils keeping in trim.

The fencing craze now has full possession of the studio. At first it was boxing, and Billy Elmer was punched all day long, then Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese actor, had a class in jiu jitsu and amused himself in his quiet oriental way by hurling people all over the stage. Now the company has engaged a fencing instructor and all day long, in one corner of the stage, the clash of steel upon steel is heard and the screams of pain as the professor strikes some unguarded spot.

What the organization will take up next is as yet undecided, but Edith Dexter is building a handball court in his back yard, so it may develop along those lines.

BEARDS MAKE THE MAN, SAYS CLAIRE WHITNEY

Claire Whitney likes men with beards. "I had a French marshal in a picture," said Miss Whitney, "and even he did not wear a beard. There was a perfectly good opportunity gone to waste."

Miss Whitney's theory is that what a man may lose in youthful appearance by growing a beard he gains in manliness and power. The decline of Rome followed the introduction of the habit of shaving, said the actress, "and the greatest era of Greek history was simultaneous with the longest growth of beards. When I read history and study social conditions I often think that the strength of a nation is in direct proportion to the number and length of hairs grown on the chin."

may pose with the wolf hound. It's gentle and guaranteed not to bite the sitter.

Their First Sight of Cows.

Two little boys from New York city were spending two weeks with my parents. They had never seen a cow and were greatly interested at seeing the cows chewing their cud. They asked the neighbor that owned the cows how he could afford to buy gum for all these cows to chew. — Cleveland Leader.

Chicago's exclusive society set in "Cousin Jim" at the Apollo on Thursday afternoon and evening.

New Myers Theatre Tuesday Oct. 3rd

One Jolly, Joyous, Jubilant Night of Mirth and Melody

The La Salle Opera House, Chicago Success. There for 3 Months

Fred'k Herendeen Gaily Presents

"THE ELOPERS"

A Happy, Snappy, Zippy Musical Comedy in Two Acts

BOOK BY ARTHUR GILLISPIE AND GEO. STODARD. LYRICS BY FREDRICK HERENDEN — MUSIC BY HUGO FREY. COMPANY OF FIFTY TALENTED PEOPLE HEADED BY WARD DE WOLF INCLUDES JOSEPHINE KERNEL, BING CUSHMAN, HAZEL JAMESON, UNA CARPENTER, CHAS. FREDERICKS, CARRIE WELLER, JULIAN RUBELL, JAMES T. WEST AND OTHER COMEDIANS, SINGERS AND DANCERS. 30 PRETTY, CLEVER, NIMBLE GIRLS—20 GREAT SINGING AND DANCING NUMBERS. LATEST SENSATIONAL DANCES. GORGEOUS COSTUMES. SCENIC PRODUCTION. SEATS NOW AT BOX OFFICE. LOWER FLOOR, $1.50, and $1.00. BALCONY $1.00, 75c, and 50c. GALLERY 25c.

Coats

Suits

First Floor.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

JANESVILLE - - - WISCONSIN

Dresses

Third

Floor.

Our Great Ready-to-Wear Section

The choice of a New Suit, Coat or Dress is naturally an important matter to you. An inspection of our New Fall Models, fresh from the manufacturers will make shopping easy and pleasant, because at THE BIG STORE you get the best in style, distinction, quality, value and by far the largest assortment to choose from.

Richness of material, refinement of style and clever workmanship, characterize every Suit, Coat or Dress in our Department.

Suits of Individuality

Every late development of fashion is reflected in our remarkable showing. They are far from the commonplace in workmanship and design. A variety of the newest cloths in beautiful shades of Burgundy, Plum, Taupe, Field Mouse, Green, Brown, Navy and Black, at $10.50, $14, $15, $18, $20 up to $65

The New Coats

You'll like the big loose styles, the large collars and the real warmth and comfort in them, and the rich autumn shades. Every new material is shown. Special values at

$6, $8, $10, $15, $16, $18, and $20
Many others up to $45

New Frocks of Silk and Serge

Dresses in Women's and Misses' styles, and sizes. The models are indeed very charming.

Serge Dresses $6 to $28
from .....
Silk Dresses $20 to $50
from .....

BEVERLY THEATRE BEAUTIFUL Special Tonight

Miss Billie Burke
in GLORIA'S ROMANCE
10th Chapter
SEE CHARMING BILLIE BURKE TONIGHT

Miss Billie Burke
7:30—Two Complete Shows Tonight—9:00
EXTRA TONIGHT—EXTRA
Muriel Ostriche in "A Circus Romance" 5 Acts.
BIG SPECIAL PROGRAM TONIGHT
No Advance in Prices.

SPECIAL FOR THURSDAY
LILLIAN WALKER in "THE KID" 5 Acts.
(Vitaphone Special)

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Oh, Well! They Can't Get Mail Every Time

FOR THROAT AND LUNGS SUFFERING COUGHS AND COLDSEckman's
Alterative

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS

Comfortable Homes Help.

The better farm home is not a panacea for all ills of dissatisfaction with farm life. There will be farm boys and farm girls who will want to take up other professions than tilling the soil. The problem, says the department of agriculture, is not to force them to stay on the farm, but to make conditions good enough there that they may make an intelligent choice.

The Lone Star RangerA Romance of the Border
by ZANE GREYAuthor of
"THE LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS"
"RIDERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE," ETC.

Copyright by Harper and Brothers

Toward the close of a day in September a stranger rode into Ord, and in a community where all men were remarkable for one reason or another he excited interest. His horse, perhaps, received the first and most engaging attention—horses in that region being apparently more important than men. This particular horse at first glance seemed ugly. But he was a giant, black as coal, huge in every way. A bystander remarked that he had a grand head. His face was solid black, except in the middle of his forehead, where there was a round spot of white.

This rider, like his horse, was a giant in stature, but rangier, not so heavily built. Otherwise the only striking thing about him was his somber face with its piercing eyes, and hair white over the temples. He packed two guns, both low down—but that was too common a thing to attract notice in the Big Bend. A close observer, however, would have noted a singular fact—this rider's right hand was more bronzed, more weather-beaten than his left. He never wore a glove on that right hand!

He had dismounted before a ramshackle structure that bore upon its wide, high-boarded front the sign, "Hotel." The hotel had a wide platform in front, and this did duty as porch and sidewalk. Upon it, and leaning against a hitching-rail, were men of varying ages, most of them slovenly in old jeans and stained, and spurred. No man there wore a coat, but all wore vests. The guns in that group would have outnumbered the men.

It was a crowd seemingly too lazy to be curious. These men were farmers; what else, perhaps, was easy to conjecture. Certainly to this arriving stranger, who flashed a keen eye over them, they were an atmosphere never associated with work.

Presently a tall man, with a drooping, sandy mustache, leisurely detached himself from the crowd.

"Howdy, stranger," he said.

The stranger had bent over to loosen the cinches; he straightened up and nodded. Then: "I'm thirsty!"

That brought a broad smile to faces. It was characteristic greeting. One and all trooped after the stranger into the hotel. It was a dark, ill-smelling barn of a place, with a bar as high as a short man's head. A bartender with a scuffed face was serving drinks.

"Line up, gents," said the stranger. They piled over one another to get to the bar, with coarse jests and oaths and laughter. None of them noted that the stranger did not appear so thirsty as he claimed to be. In fact, though he went through the motions, he did not drink at all.

"My name's Jim Fletcher," said the tall man with the drooping, sandy mustache. He spoke laconically, nevertheless there was a tone that showed he expected to be known. Something went with that name. The stranger did not appear to be impressed.

"My name might be Blazes, but it ain't," he replied. "What do you call this burg?"

"Stranger, this beah me-tropolis bears the handle Ord. Is that new to you?"

He leaned back against the bar, and now his little yellow eyes, clear as crystal, flashed as a hawk's, fixed on the stranger. Other men crowded close, forming a circle, curious, ready to be friendly or otherwise, according to how the tall interrogator marked the newcomer.

"Sure, Ord's a little strange to me. Off the railroad some, ain't it? Funny trails hereabouts."

"How far was you goin'?"

"I reckon I was goin' as far as I could," replied the stranger, with a hard laugh.

His reply had subtle reaction on that listening circle. Some of the men exchanged glances. Fletcher stroked his drooping mustache, seemed thoughtful, but lost something of that piercing scrutiny.

"Wal, Ord's the jumpin'-off place," he said, presently. "Sure you've heard of the Big Bend country?"

"I sure have, an' was makin' tracks for it," replied the stranger.

Fletcher turned toward a man in the outer edge of the group. "Knell, come in here!"

This individual showed his way in and was seen to be scarcely more than a boy, almost pale beside those bronzed men, with a long, expressionless face, thin and sharp.

"Knell, this beah's—" Fletcher wheeled to the stranger. "What'd you call yourself?"

"I'd hate to mention what I've been callin' myself lately."

This sally fetched another laugh. The stranger appeared cool, careless, indifferent.

Knell stepped up, and it was easy to see, from the way Fletcher relinquished his part in the situation, that a man greater than he had appeared upon the scene.

"Any business here?" he queried, curtly. When he spoke his expressionless face was in strange contrast with the ring, the quality, the cruelty of his voice. This voice betrayed an absence of humor, of friendliness, of heart.

"Any Business Here?"

"Nope," replied the stranger.

"Know anybody hereabouts?"

"Nary one."

"Jest ridin' through?"

"Yep."

"Stopin' fer back country, eh?"

There came a pause. The stranger appeared to grow a little resentful and drew himself up disdainfully.

"Wal, considerin' you-all seem so damn friendly an' oncurious down here in this Big Bend country, I don't mind sayin' yes—I am in on the dodge," he replied, with deliberate sarcasm.

"From west of Ord—out El Paso way, mebbe?"

"Sure."

"A-huh! That so?" Knell's words cut the air, stilled the room. "You're from way down the river. That's what they say down there—on the dodge."

"Stranger, you're a liar!"

With swift clink of spur and thump of boot the crowd split, leaving Knell and the stranger in the center. The stranger suddenly became bronzed. The situation seemed familiar to him. His eyes held a singular piercing light that danced like a compass-needle.

"Sure I lied," he said, "so I ain't takin' offense at the way you called me. I'm lookin' to make friends, not enemies. You don't strike me as one of them four-flushes, achin' to kill somebody. But if you are—go ahead an' open the ball. . . . You see, I never throw a gun on these fellers till they go fer theirs."

Knell coolly eyed his antagonist, his strange face not changing in the least. Yet somehow it was evident in his look that there was metal which rang differently from what he had expected. Invited to start a fight or withdraw, as he chose, Knell proved himself big in the manner characteristic of only the genuine gunman.

"Stranger, I pass," he said, and, turning to the bar, he ordered liquor.

The tension relaxed, the silence broke, the men filled up the gap; the incident seemed closed. Jim Fletcher attached himself to the stranger, and now both respect and friendliness tempered his asperity.

"Wal, fer want of a better handle I'll call you Dodge," he said.

"Dodge's as good as any. . . . Gents, line up again—an' if you can't be friendly, be careful!"

Such was Buck Duane's debut in the little outlaw hamlet of Ord.

Duane had been three months out of the Nueces country. "At El Paso he bought the finest horse he could find, and, armed and otherwise outfitted to suit him, he had taken to unknown trails. He passed on leisurely, because he wanted to learn the way of the country, the work, habit, gossip, pleasures, and fears of the people with whom he came in contact. When he heard Fletcher's name and faced Knell he knew he had reached the place he sought.

Duane made himself agreeable, yet not too much so, to Fletcher and several other men disposed to talk and drink, and eat; and then, after having a care for his horse, he rode out of town a couple of miles to a grove he had marked, and there, well hidden, he prepared to spend the night. This proceeding served a double purpose—he was safer, and the habit would look well in the eyes of outlaws, who would be more inclined to see in him the lone-wolf fugitive.

Long since Duane had fought out a battle with himself, won a hard-earned victory. He had assumed a task impossible for any man save one like him, he had felt the meaning of it grow strangely and wonderfully, and through that flourished up consciousness of how passionately he now clung to this thing which would blot out his former infamy. He never forgot that he was free. Strangely, too, along with this feeling of new manhood there gathered the force of imperious desire to run these chief outlaws to their dooms. He never called them outlaws—but rustlers, thieves, robbers, murderers, criminals. He sensed the growth of a relentless driving passion, and sometimes he feared that, more than the newly acquired zeal and pride in this ranger service, it was the old, terrible inherited killing instinct lifting its hydra-head in new guise.

This night a wonderful afterglow lingered long in the west, and against the golden-red of clear sky the bold, black head of Mount Ord reared itself aloft, beautiful but aloof, sinister yet calling. Small wonder that Duane gazed in fascination upon the peak! Somewhere deep in its rugged canyon was hidden the secret stronghold of the master outlaw Cheseldine. All down along the ridge from El Paso Duane had heard of Cheseldine, of his band, his fearful deeds, his cunning, his widely separate raids of his flitting here and there like a Jack-o'-lantern; but never a word of his den, never a word of his appearance.

Next morning Duane did not return to Ord. He struck out to the north, riding down a rough, slow-descending road that appeared to have been used occasionally for cattle-driving. As he had ridden in from the west, this northern direction led him into totally unfamiliar country. While he passed on, however, he exercised such keen observation that in the future he would know whatever might be of service to him if he chanced that way again.

After a couple of hours' riding he entered a town which he soon discovered to be Bradford. It was the largest town he had visited since Marfa, and he calculated must have a thousand or fifteen hundred inhabitants, not including Mexicans. He decided this would be a good place for him to hold up for a while, being the nearest town to Ord, only forty miles away. So he hitched his horse in front of a store and leisurely set about studying Bradford.

It was after dark, however, that Duane verified his suspicions concerning Bradford. The town was awake after dark, and there was one long row of saloons, dance-halls, gambling-resorts in full blast. Duane

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

visited them all, and was surprised to see wildness and license equal to that of the old river camp of Bland's in its palmy days. Here it was forced upon him that the farther west one traveled along the river the sparser the respectable settlements, the more numerous the hard characters, and in consequence the greater the element of lawlessness. Duane returned to his lodging-house with the conviction that MacNelly's task of cleaning-up the Big Bend country was a stupendous one. Yet, he reflected, a company of intrepid and quick-shooting rangers could have soon cleaned up this Bradford.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Dinner
Stories

Little Gerald was being initiated into the beauties of grand opera. He listened for some time in silence, but when the celebrated soprano was in the middle of her loudest solo Gerald concluded that something ought to be done to the conductor of the orchestra. He said to his mother:

"Why does that man hit at the woman with a stick?"

"Keep quiet," his mother replied. "He is not hitting at her."

Just then the soprano gave another despairing shriek.

"Well, then, if he isn't hitting at her, what is she hollering for?" said Gerald.

Doris was radiant over a recent addition to the family and rushed out of the house to tell the news to a passing neighbor.

"What is it?" the neighbor asked. "A new baby brother," said Doris, and she settled back on her heels and clasped her hands to watch the effect of her announcement.

"You don't say so," the neighbor exclaimed. "Is he going to stay?"

"I think so," said Doris. "He's got his things out."

Mr. S— had a peculiarly irritable sneeze. It began with a complex and terrifying series of facial convulsions, but instead of concluding with the roar of a shot lion, it ended with a most lame paroxysm that always disappointed the expectant observer.

"Your sneeze," said a friend, after watching him through one of his stermutations, "is a regular circus."

"A circus?" said Mr. S—. "The performance never comes up to the advance notices."

Fair Supposition.

My sister sent her little boy to a nearby grocery to get a box of can rubbers. The clerk, not knowing the desired kind or quality, sent two boxes home with Paul, telling him to bring back the one his mother didn't want.

After a long time Paul came home. When my sister asked him why he had brought two boxes home, he couldn't remember to save his little soul. At last he looked up brightly and said: "Don't you s'pose they need the money?"—Chicago Tribune.

My sister sent her little boy to a nearby grocery to get a box of can rubbers. The clerk, not knowing the desired kind or quality, sent two boxes home with Paul, telling him to bring back the one his mother didn't want.

After a long time Paul came home. When my sister asked him why he had brought two boxes home, he couldn't remember to save his little soul. At last he looked up brightly and said: "Don't you s'pose they need the money?"—Chicago Tribune.

My sister sent her little boy to a nearby grocery to get a box of can rubbers. The clerk, not knowing the desired kind or quality, sent two boxes home with Paul, telling him to bring back the one his mother didn't want.

After a long time Paul came home. When my sister asked him why he had brought two boxes home, he couldn't remember to save his little soul. At last he looked up brightly and said: "Don't you s'pose they need the money?"—Chicago Tribune.

My sister sent her little boy to a nearby grocery to get a box of can rubbers. The clerk, not knowing the desired kind or quality, sent two boxes home with Paul, telling him to bring back the one his mother didn't want.

After a long time Paul came home. When my sister asked him why he had brought two boxes home, he couldn't remember to save his little soul. At last he looked up brightly and said: "Don't you s'pose they need the money?"—Chicago Tribune.

My sister sent her little boy to a nearby grocery to get a box of can rubbers. The clerk, not knowing the desired kind or quality, sent two boxes home with Paul, telling him to bring back the one his mother didn't want.

After a long time

